CONSENT TO BIBLICAL COUNSEL/DISCIPLESHIP

On the date set forth below, it is agreed that Ruth Yorio ("Counselor") will provide biblical counseling services to _____ ("Counselee") on the following terms and conditions:

Biblical Counseling: This is a ministry of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and is part of the counselor's faith practice. The counselee is voluntarily seeking biblical guidance (biblical counseling) from the counselor, as a part of the counselee's faith practice. The goal of biblical counseling is to help Christians become more like Jesus Christ in attitude, thought, and action. Thus, helping the counselee live life in a God-honoring way. This includes, but is not limited to, providing biblical counsel to assist in meeting the challenges of life, shedding the sin that so easily entangles, learning to develop, cultivate, and live in relationships that please God, giving thanks to God in all circumstances, living in a community of other believers through participation in a local church, and learning to rely on the Holy Spirit for direction as counselee seeks to know God through the Bible. Although the biblical advice the counselor provides is intended to be practical, it is entirely the counselee's decision how to (and whether to) implement that advice. The counselor wants to help counselee love God and love others through this process.

Biblical Basis: The counselor believes that the Bible provides sufficient guidance and instruction for faith and life. Therefore, counseling is based on biblical principles rather than those of secular psychology or psychiatry. The counselor is not licensed or certified as a psychotherapist, psychologist, psychiatrist, mental health professional, marriage and family therapist, or social worker, and is not acting in such capacities. If the counselee is unwilling to use the Bible as the final authority in counseling or is unwilling to do the homework assigned, they should not proceed with this counseling.

Professional Advice: The counselor is not providing legal, tax, financial, medical, or other technical or professional advice and the counselor undertakes no duty to recognize or opine when such advice is needed, and the parties further agree that no fiduciary or professional client relationship is being created between counselor and counselee because of this relationship. While the counselee may provide remuneration for the ministerial services provided pursuant to this agreement, such remuneration does not change this relationship from a religious to a "professional" or "fiduciary" relationship.

Confidentiality: Confidentiality is conditional. Although confidentiality is often one aspect of the counseling process and the counselor intends to guard the information received from the counselee, there are several situations when it may be necessary or prudent (as determined in counselor's sole discretion) for the counselor to share information with others. The counselee agrees that the counselor may share information in at least the following circumstances:

- When the counselor is uncertain how to address a problem and needs to seek the advice from a pastor, supervising counselor, or educator. (Proverbs 11:14; 24:6).
- When there is concern that someone is being or may be harmed unless other persons or protective services intervene (Romans 13:1-7).
- When the counselee expresses clear and specific suicidal intent, the counselor may take reasonable measures for the safety of the counselee. Reasonable measures may include notifying police if the counselee will not cooperate to involve him or herself in a watchcare program or facility.
- If the counselor has reasonable cause to believe that an adult is in need of protective services, the counselor may take reasonable measures to prevent harm. Reasonable measures may include directly advising the potential victim of a threat or intent and/or informing the appropriate protective and/or law enforcement agencies.
- If there is a claim of, the observance of, or clear reasonable cause to suspect the physical or sexual abuse of a child with whom the counselor comes into contact or who is associated with someone to whom the counselor is in contact with, reasonable measures may be taken to ensure the child's protection and/or to fulfill the legal mandate to report such harm to the appropriate governmental protection agencies.
- When the counselor becomes aware of any other criminal activity the counselee is engaged in and the counselee refuses to bring to the appropriate biblical and/or legal authorities.
- When counseling someone who is under familial authority (e.g. wife to husband, child to parent) and if deemed safe by the counselor, the counselor may encourage the counselee to inform the counselee's familial authority of critical issues and/or the counselor may inform the familial authority (Ephesians 5:22-6:4).
- When a person refuses to renounce a particular sin and/or refuses to confess it to those impacted, the counselor may in the counselor's discretion, seek the assistance of a trusted member or leader of any involved church to encourage repentance and/or reconciliation (Proverbs 15:22, 24:11; Matthew 18:15-20).
- When the counselor deems it appropriate or necessary to discuss information with a training observer or an assisting advocate who is involved or observing counseling.
- When the counselee makes a complaint against the counselor, an ACBC counselor, or a counseling center or other related organization, it is agreed that the dispute will be handled biblically, outside the court, and may involve sharing information with an assisting local Church Shepherd and/or the appropriate person(s) within the ACBC organization for complaint resolution purposes.

Please be assured that our counselors strongly prefer not to disclose your personal information to others (if not needed), and they will make every effort to help you find ways to resolve a problem as privately as possible.

Liability: It is intended that the Holy Scriptures (the Bible) shall be the authority governing the counseling process, and that God's glory is the ultimate goal. However, failure of the counselor to interpret or apply the Bible in any way shall not subject the counselor to liability or give rise to complaint by anyone. There shall be no legal or other liability that attaches to the counselor or any related institution or person for any advice, methods, conduct, or any act or omission related in any way to the service that is provided, and the counselee acknowledges that the counselee is voluntarily seeking this counsel (free from coercion, duress, or pressure) with a full understanding of the nature, purpose, and effect of this agreement.

Termination: At any time and for any reason, the counselor or counselee may terminate counseling. However, termination will not preclude the counselor from making the disclosures set forth above if deemed appropriate by the counselor, or if compelled by other legal means. The counselor is not required to keep records, but if records are made, the counselor may destroy any such records without incurring liability.

Resolution of Conflicts: On rare occasions, a conflict may develop between a counselor and a counselee. In order to make sure that any such conflicts will be resolved in a biblically faithful manner (the Bible prohibits lawsuits in court among believers; 1 Cor. 6:1-8), the parties agree that if a conflict arises, the conflict will be resolved according to the ACBC dispute resolution proceedings, which are then operative. That conflict resolution policy may be found at <https://biblicalcounseling.com/acbc-member-complaint-case-policy/>.

BY SIGNING THIS DOCUMENT, YOU ARE IRREVOCABLY WAIVING ANY RIGHT THAT YOU MIGHT HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY OR JUDGE IN A JUDICIAL PROCEEDING.

If any provision of this agreement shall be held invalid, illegal, or unenforceable, only that provision shall be stricken and the remainder of the agreement shall be in no way affected. By signing below, the parties agree to the terms and conditions set forth in this document and acknowledge that the counselor would not enter into this counseling relationship without each term set forth above.
